BEING A THERMOSTAT NOT A THERMOMETER.

GREAT ADVICE FOR BEING A BETTER PARENT, A SPOUSE OR A LEADER IN GENERAL

There's a great saying that we should be a thermostat and not a thermometer.

A thermometer reads the temperature of the room and responds to it. A thermostat sets the temperature of that room. You're gonna walk into lots of rooms today—lots of situations and scenarios in your life. Are you responding to everybody else around you or are you setting the spiritual temperature?

Do you find yourself constantly responding to how your kids are acting? Are you letting that determine the kind of father you are? If you have teenagers in the house, that's a bad idea!

Are you basing the kind of spouse you are on how good your husband's or wife's mood is today?

Are you responsive to the virtue or lack thereof in your workplace, and letting that determine how you talk, and how you interact with the people around you?

Stop being a thermometer.

Envision who God is calling you to be, in the many rooms you'll find yourself in today, and decide to be a thermostat!

God bless you,

Chris Stefanick

Become a Coat Drive Champion!

The coat drive collection is now underway. Do you have extra adult winter coats, boots, scarves, hats, toques, gloves, mitts, socks, or backpacks around your home? Do you have family members, friends, neighbours, fellow parishioners, or co-workers you could ask the same? The cold weather is coming and others in need are counting on our collective generosity to help keep them warm this winter. Please consider becoming a coat drive champion and gather what you can. The need is great!

Volunteers will be present inside the main entrance of the cathedral before each Mass on the weekends of October 18/19 and October 25/26 (Sat., 5:00, and Sun., 8:00, 10:30, 7:30). They will collect any items you may have for the coat drive. If you would prefer your donations are picked up, we're happy to do that, too. Simply email to arrange a time convenient for you: coatdrive@stmaryscathedral.ca
